Product short description:

The duel hole Ceramic ceiling canopy kits are handmade Italian art. Made and handpainted by master ceramic artists just outside of Venice, Italy, in the traditional style. Every piece is one-of-a-kind. These don't run off an assembly line. Each one takes days to complete and many hours of craftsmanship.

The ceramic is heat resistant, traditional in appearance and ideally suited to classic & traditional settings. These make you feel like you just stepped into an Italian trattoria and are hanging out with your friends for an aperitivo.

Due to their handmade production, each of these ceramic ceiling canopies will be slightly different and have "imperfections" as part of the crafts process.

These are the perfect canopies to use if you're looking to create an old-world style pendant light fixture. Made the same way for hundreds of years. It doesn't get much more classic than this.
